

THE NATIONAL HISPANIC CAUCUS OF STATE LEGISLATORS

RESOLUTION

No. 2024-13

Healthy Universal School Meals

Reported to the Caucus by the Education Task Force Sen. Teresa Ruiz (NJ), Chair

Sponsored by Rep. Geraldo Reyes (CT), Rep. María Isa Pérez Vega (MN), Sen. Leo Jaramillo (NM), Rep. Carlos González (MA), Sen. Adam Gómez (MA), Sen. Sonya Jaquez Lewis (CO), Asw. Sandra Jauregui (NV), Sen. Luz Escamilla (UT), Asw. Jessica González-Rojas (NY), Rep. Lillian Ortiz-Self (WA), Rep. Ángel Matos (PR) Rep. Juan Candelaria (CT), Sen. Gustavo Rivera (NY), Del. Deni Taveras (MD), Asw. Yvonne López (NJ), Rep. Veronica Paiz (MI), Sen. Cristina Castro (IL) and Sen. Wlnsvey Campos (OR)

Unanimously ratified by the Caucus on November 23, 2024

WHEREAS, in Resolution No. 2018-20, End School Lunch Shaming, this Caucus broadly supported "legislation that allows children to receive an education without going hungry or getting bullied, stigmatized, or humiliated for not being able to afford the school lunch or because their parent or guardian forgot to make a payment," along with several policies to improve the reduced cost or free lunch application process and the debt collection process; and,

7 WHEREAS, in that resolution, the Caucus underscored that the research at the time showed8 that Hispanic children were the group most likely to be eligible for free or reduced-price

9 school meals but not be receiving them,<sup>1</sup> but more recent research<sup>2</sup> has shown that those 10 disparities have disappeared;<sup>3</sup> and,

WHEREAS, more recent efforts to automatically enroll Medicaid recipients (DCM-F/RP) in the National School Lunch Program (NSLP) and School Breakfast Program (SBP) proved

13 successful in increasing the percentage of meals served for free in most states studied,<sup>4</sup> but

14 many students still do not benefit from school meals; and,

WHEREAS, while there is no stand-alone nutrition comparison data for the breakfast program, USDA research found that NSLP participants eat significantly more whole grains than nonparticipants,<sup>5</sup> and greater servings of whole grains are "significantly related to higher scores in reading comprehension and fluency and mathematics" in elementary schoolchildren;<sup>6</sup> and,

WHEREAS, universal school meals benefit all students because when even one student in a classroom is hungry it can disrupt learning for all students;<sup>7</sup> and,

22 WHEREAS, using state funds,<sup>8</sup> eight states, California, Colorado, Massachusetts, Maine,

23 Michigan, Minnesota, New Mexico and Vermont have implemented permanent Healthy

24 School Meals for All policies, offering a free breakfast and lunch to all students, regardless of

- 25 household income; Connecticut and Nevada offered universal free meals only for the 2022-
- 26 23 and 2023-24 school years;<sup>9</sup> and New Jersey significantly expanded eligibility for free

27 meals but not yet universal meals; while in New York, the cities of New York City, Albany, 28 Rochester and Yonkers offer universal school meals;<sup>10</sup> and,

- WHEREAS, a bill before Congress, the Universal School Meal Program Act (S.1568/H.R.3204) would create a permanent nationwide federally-funded Healthy School Meals for All program, increase reimbursement rates for school meals, end lunch shaming, reimburse schools for meal debt, provide incentives for local food procurement, expand summer meal access, and expand the Child and Adult Care Food Program; and,
- WHEREAS, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, the American Heart Association, the National PTA, the American Federation of Teachers and the National Education Association have joined the Healthy School Meals for All Coalition, supporting the Universal School Meal Program Act in Congress and other less ambitious bills that would all expand access to school meals.<sup>11</sup>

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, the National Hispanic Caucus of State Legislators calls on states to enact Healthy School Meals for All policies and calls on Congress to enact the Universal School Meal Program Act or similar legislation, ensuring it includes the territories.
